The assets are invested in investment objects linked to the European equity market: stocks, exchange-traded funds, index funds or other objects that invest in the European equity market. Proportion of alternative investments may represent up to 30% of the assets. In order to reduce the investment risk in the event of adverse market conditions, part of the assets may be invested in money market instruments, money market funds, deposits with a maturity of 12 months or less.
COMMENT
In Q2, global equity markets rebounded, and the value of investment direction also rose, by 3.2%.
The uncertainty of US tariffs (duties), the uncertainty of their level and timing, and the 'One Big Beautiful Bill' on tax and budget reform caused significant stock market volatility around the world at the start of Q2. The war in the Middle East added fuel to the fire. However, investors subsequently regained their confidence and risk appetite, helped by solid corporate performance in Q1. Major US equity indices reached record highs, but the US dollar's biggest depreciation in a decade (-8.0% in 3 months) led to a moderate rise in euro returns. In Q2, the Stoxx 600 Europe index of the largest European companies rose by 3.3%, while the S&P 500 index of US companies rose by 2.0% in euro terms and the MSCI Emerging Markets index rose by 2.9%.
European equities' leadership has been helped to a large extent by increases in defence and infrastructure spending, as well as a steady reduction in the base interest rate. The European Central Bank also lowered its base rate to 2.0% as inflation eased to an annual rate of around 2.0%.
